

Crosswalk between the Public Health Accreditation Board (PHAB) Standards and Public Health Emergency Preparedness and Response Capabilities
(Please see Introduction for context and navigation instructions)

The image shows a large grid area intended for a crosswalk table. The grid is composed of small squares, with a thick black border on the top and left sides, and a thin black border on the right and bottom sides. The grid is currently empty, providing space for users to map PHAB standards to public health emergency preparedness and response capabilities.
