

Department of Transportation's Guidance for Completing the Shipper's Declaration for Dangerous Goods

The Department of Transportation (DOT) oversees compliance with the Hazardous Materials Regulations (HMR). Entities and individuals that are subject to the select agent and toxin regulations are also responsible for ensuring compliance with all other applicable federal regulations, including DOT requirements in the HMR for the shipment of select agents and toxins. These slides are provided for informational purposes only. For additional information on compliance with the HMR or other DOT regulations, contact <https://www.phmsa.dot.gov/standards-rulemaking/hazmat/hazardous-materials-information-center>.
