Chapters 4, 5, 7, and 8

Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 requires electronic information from the federal government to be accessible to people with disabilities. If an online document complies with Section 508, then for example, a sight-impaired person could use a screen reader to “read” the content.

In the online report, the structure of some tables in Chapters 4, 5, 7, and 8 has been revised to comply with Section 508. These revised tables appear on pages that are numbered with letters (e.g., 220a, 220b, etc.). These lettered pages are not in the printed report and are not included in the Index. The content of the tables in the online report is the same as in the printed report, only the format is different.
