

The health and economic impact of youth violence by injury mechanism

Authors: Elizabeth M. Parker, PhD; Likang Xu, MD; Ashley D’Inverno, PhD; Tadesse Haileyesus, MS;

Cora Peterson, PhD

Journal: American Journal of Preventive Medicine

Appendix

Appendix Table 1. Nonfatal assault injury mechanism by data source

Mechanism reported in this study	CDC WISQARS	National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS) ICD–10–CM External Cause-of-injury Framework for Categorizing Mechanism and Intent of Injury (Hedegaard, 2020)
Cut/pierce	Cut/pierce	Cut/Pierce
Drowning/submersion	Drowning/submersion	Drowning/submersion
Fall	Fall	Fall
Fire/burn	Fire/burn	Fire/burn
Firearm	Firearm	Firearm
Motor vehicle occupant	Motor vehicle occupant	Motor vehicle traffic (MVT)-Occupant
Pedestrian	Pedestrian	MVT-Pedestrian
Other transportation	Other land transport	Other land transport
Natural/environmental	Natural/environmental	Natural/environmental
	Bite: Dog
Overexertion	Overexertion	Overexertion
Poisoning	Poisoning	Poisoning
Struck by/against	Struck by/against	Struck by/against
	Bite: Other, including sting
Inhalation/suffocation	Inhalation/suffocation	Suffocation
Other specified	Other specified	Other specified, classifiable
	BB / pellet gun	Other specified, not elsewhere classifiable
Unknown/unspecified	Unknown/unspecified	Unspecified

Mechanism definitions: https://www.cdc.gov/injury/wisqars/cost_help/mechanism_injury.html (CDC WISQARS) and Hedegaard (2020) (ICD-10-CM).