New A-Z Index for CDPH Occ Health Resources

Employers, workers, and occupational health advocates looking for resources can now find them in one place on the new A-Z index on the California Department of Public Health Occupational Health Branch (OHB) website.

The page is alphabetically sorted by topic, and many resources are cross-listed. Visitors to our website can use the listing to find training materials and other documents produced by OHB programs. These resources are on topics that include preventing work-related asthma, lead poisoning, pesticide illness, and fatal injuries, as well as hazard evaluation, health surveillance, and the California Safe Cosmetics Program.
