Call for Papers for NCHS Records and Statistics Conference

The National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS) will hold the 23rd biennial Public Health Conference on Records and Statistics in Washington, DC, July 15-17, 1991. The focus will be the interaction between the Nation's health agenda for the coming decade and the health statistics that will be needed to plan and monitor public health programs.

NCHS has issued a call for papers, with abstracts due February 8, 1991. The conference serves as a major forum for advances in public health statistics. Preference will be given to completed research and to abstracts in which the results of research are described. Papers presented at the conference will be published in the proceedings.

Papers will be considered for presentation under three broad themes, data systems for the Nation's health agenda, assessment of community health, and new concepts for the decade of the 1990s.

Information and application forms are available from Nancy Hamilton, NCHS, 6525 Belcrest Rd., Room 1100, Hyattsville, MD, 20782; tel. (301) 436-7122.
