A Model for Ongoing Revisions

■ Revisions to Best Practice Guidelines

- Major changes to document
 - Most commonly requires discussion by ACIP
 - Rarely would require a vote
 - ACIP meetings to discuss/vote timed at least 6 months in advance of CE Cycle Deadline (Next one April, 2021)
- Updates
 - May be uploaded following direct input from work group
 - Should be additionally presented to ACIP during major discussions
